Carmel Taxpayers Association To Conduct Formal Election On Junior College District

The board of directors of the taxpayers association meet this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the office of their attorney, Thomas K. Perry, to complete arrangements for conducting an election on the junior college question:

Whether the Carmel School District shall participate in forming a junior college district with Monterey and Pacific Grove, or remain independent and continue to send its students to junior colleges of their choice under the tax-tuition provision.

According to Assistant District Attorney Bert Lindsley, the Carmel School Board, which has sole power to commit the district to the junior college, may not hold an election or conduct an opinion poll.

The election planned by the taxpayers association will follow the procedure of a legal school district election. Polling places or place will be at one of the schools. Regular election booths, ballot boxes and other equipment will be borrowed from the county (board of supervisors willing). A volunteer election board chosen from opponents and proponents will officiate at the election and tally the ballots.

Preceding the election, printed sample ballots with a 500 word statement of arguments for the proposition and a 500 word statement against will be sent out to the registered voters.

Expenses of the election will be borne by the taxpayers association and other citizens interested in injecting democratic processes into school district government.

The election will not be binding on the school board but its moral effect cannot be ignored.

Date of the election will be set at this afternoon's meeting.

El Senor George Maria Escabroso Dear de los Liones prepares tortillas for tacos at the Carmel Lions Club booth at the county fair, which opened yesterday at the fair grounds in Monterey and will continue through Sunday.

This is the second year the Carmel Lions have delighted fairgoers with tasty tortillas wrapped around a refreshing concoction of meat, cheese, lettuce and spices. Stanley Ewig, chairman of the tacos committee, has recruited a corps of Lions and their wives to staff the booth. These volunteers work under the supervision of August Nieto, proprietor of Su Vecino Restaurant.

Proceeds from the tacos sales go to the Lions' youth fund.

Petitions Circulate For Carmel Council To Pass "Right To Work" Ord.

As a result of a meeting of a group of citizens at the Blue Bird Restaurant yesterday afternoon, a petition to the Carmel City Council to pass a "right to work" ordinance is being circulated for signatures today.

The Blue Bird has been picketed by the Restaurant-Hotel Employees and Bartenders Union since July 4.

Captain H. M. Gleason, one of the five citizens who called the meeting, told the Pine Cone: "This is not a move against organized labor. We are simply trying to protect the right to work of people in this community. We are doing this as a public service."

The other originators of the movement are Howard Murphy, Admiral C. W. Fisher, Vice Admiral Robert Hayler, and Lloyd Armstrong.

Tables have been placed at the Post Office door and at The Blue Bird Restaurant where the petition is offered for signature. Sunday they will be circulated at Church of the Wayfarer, All Saints' and new Presbyterian Church.

"A PETITION TO GUARANTEE THE RIGHT TO WORK

"To the City Council of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California:

Gentlemen: The undersigned citizens of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea hereby petition your honorable body that an ordinance be enacted to guarantee that the right to work in our community be not abridged or restricted in any way because of membership or non-membership in a labor or any other organization or association.

"We therefore respectfully suggest that the council and city attorney, in the consideration or preparation of such regulation, consider the types of ordinances that have been enacted in other cities or counties in the State of California to protect the right to

Council Could Reduce Tax 4 Cents, Instead It Plans To Raise It 2 Cents

Carmel City Council cut $17,178 worth of foolishness out of the city budget last night. (They could have cut $5000 more.) This makes it possible for the council to reduce the tax rate four cents from last year's dollar rate. Instead they intend to raise the rate two cents to $1.02.

The tentative budget, which was out of balance $9,354, called for a $1.02 tax rate if the council could eliminate the $9,354. Last night, fired up with enthusiasm to get the job done and go home, they whittled away at the most unreasonable of each other's departmental demands which were so many and obvious that they blundered into eliminating $17,178.00; $7,714 more than they needed to cut. This represents 6 cents tax.

"Let's cut out the two cent tax raise," Francis Whitaker cried happily.

A glow diffused the 11:45 p. m. faces.

"Gentlemen," interposed City Clerk Larry Rose, horrified. "It would be most injudicious to reduce the tax rate. The two cent increase is for the library; the city tax remains the same. If you cut out the two cents, you would be reducing city tax."

This is technically correct. Practically, it is nonsense.

But the council looked grim. Mr. Rose was right. It is most injudicious to cut the tax rate, or to put it more accurately, not to raise it as planned. How could they have been so naive as to suggest not raising taxes! Everybody increases taxes: county, school districts, state, federal government. Only yokels like the Carmel Sanitary Board reduces them.

They chatted happily about what they would do with the $7,714.

CARMEL SWIMMERS DOMINATE TRI-COUNTY MEET

An outstanding team performance plus brilliant individual efforts by Ann Giles and Mike Cook, led the Carmel swim team to a convincing victory in the Annual Tri-County Meet. Held at the Pacific Grove pool last Saturday morning, the meet drew over 200 contestants and was witnessed by better than 300 spectators. Carmel's victory was the second in a row and completes two undefeated seasons.

By winning two first places and swimming on a winning relay team, Ann Giles and Mike Cook shared top individual scoring honors for the meet and gave the Carmel swim team a good cushion on which to float to victory. Ann won the 15 and under breaststroke and the 90 meter individual medley while Mike copped the same events in the 15 and under boys division.

Other blue ribbon winners for Carmel were Mary Martin, 60 meter freestyle; Pat Mosolf, 30 meter backstroke; Joy Fehring, diving; and Dave Rosenkranz, diving. Carmel swimmers who contributed valuable points by finishing in the first five were: Gary Aebersold, 2nd 8 and under 30 meter freestyle and 4th 30 meter backstroke; Maynard Petersen, 2nd 10 and under 30 meter freestyle; Barbara Giles, 5th 10 and under 30 freestyle; Mary Palmer, 2nd 10 and under 30 meter freestyle; Pat Mosolf, 2nd 12 and under 30 meter freestyle; Keith Kneedler, 3rd 15 and under 60 meter freestyle; Mary Bridges, 4th 8 and under 30 meter backstroke! Lela Zils, 5th 8 and under 30 meter backstroke; Tim Petersen, 4th 10 and under 30 meter backstroke; Ronnie Berry, 3rd 10 and under 30 meter backstroke; Sandy Aebersold, 4th 10 and under 30 meter backstroke; David Rosenzranz, 3rd 12 and under 30 meter backstroke; Doyle Clayton, tie for 3rd 15 and under 60 meter backstroke; Marie Bates, 2nd 15 and under 60 meter backstroke; Mary Martin, 3rd 15 and under 60 meter backstroke; Phyllis Clayton, 5th 15 and under 60 meter backstroke; Sue Petersen, 4th 12 and under 30 meter breaststroke; Sue Shirley, 3rd and under 30 meter breaststroke; Leslie Strosnider, 4th 15 and under 60 meter breaststroke; Ciji Ware, 3rd 15 and under 60 meter breaststroke; Pam Petersen, 3rd 15 and under 90 meter individual medley; Kandi Knapp, 3rd open diving; and Ronnie Jella, 4th open diving.

MAL BURDIS WINS YOUTH CENTER TABLE TENNIS CROWN

Sixteen of the top paddle-wielders of the Carmel Youth Center took part in the 6th Annual Keith Mackenzie Memorial Table Tennis Tournament last Wednesday night to decide the official ping pong champion of the popular play spot. After three hours of steady paddle swinging, Malcolm Burdis, Youth Center president, showed the way for his charges by nailing Jim Lee in the finals to wrap up the title for the prexy. Mal had to stroke his way by Phil O'Shea and Frank Wallace before earning the right to play Lee in the finals. Lee had sailed past Allan Taylor and Andy Gray while working his way to the finals. In the consolation bracket of the tournament, Mike Mitchell outsteadied Tim O'Shea to win a handsome trophy. Frank Wallace took home the third-place trophy by downing Fritz Scheffer.

CALGARY CRICKET STARS AT HIGH SCHOOL FIELD SUNDAY

The Monterey Peninsula's Del Monte Cricket Club plays host to the Calgary All-Stars this Sunday afternoon in a 1:00 o'clock game at the Carmel High School football field. The Calgary team consists of the top players in the Canadian league and figures to give the local cricketeers an interesting afternoon of bowling and bat-wielding.

In last Sunday's make-up game with San Francisco's Golden Gate Club, Del Monte finished on the short end of a 118-89 match which saw Dr. Rex Whitworth score 43 runs in a fine batting performance.

PADRE FOOTBALL PRACTICE SLATED FOR NEXT TUESDAY

With medical exams on the docket Monday and Tuesday morning from 9 to 11, Carmel High varsity and junior-varsity football players will swing into a full scale workout Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The 2:00 o'clock practices will continue on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Football plans at the Padre campus call for three teams this season, starting with a lightweight freshman squad, a junior-varsity unit, and a 33-man varsity team. Varsity coaching assignments will be shared by Don Craig and George Mosolf while Fred Rainer and Paul Morlang will guide the lightweight and junior-varsity squads.

Opening action of the season will be the Red and Gray intrasquad game which is slated for Wednesday, September 11th. This is a full dress game with league officials blowing the whistle to acquaint the new players with actual game action and rules of play. On Friday, September 13th, the Padres travel to Salinas for the annual Football Jamboree where all the varsity teams of the Coast Counties Athletic League show their hands for the first time. Carmel travels to the San Joaquin Valley for an inter-sectional tilt with the Gustine Indians on September 20th. This will be a night game with both the varsity and junior-varsity teams slated for action.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

The golf tournament, sponsored by the Oakland and Monterey Rotary Clubs, will be held here on the Peninsula this Friday, August 23, and Carmel Rotarians have been asked to participate.

Talented Young Cast Rehearses For "Dream" In Carmel Forest Theater

August 29, 30, 31 and September 5, 6, 7, will be Herbert Heron's twentieth Shakespeare production in the Forest Theater, and for it he has gathered a cast of players full of the spirit of youth and gayety. Some are under twenty, most are under twenty-five, yet their past achievements would seem to belie their ages.

Oberon, king of the fairies, is played by Christopher Jones. He was William Burke in Treasure Hunt and Sam in Tobias and the Angel. The radiant Titania, queen of the fairies, is taken by Renee Wurzmann. She appeared in Autumn Crocus and Over the Fairy Line, and danced solo roles in The Sleeping Beauty, Cinderella, The Fisherman's Festival, The Fantastic Toy Shop, and The Nutcracker Suite. The role of Puck is electrified by Elizabeth Graves. Starbird is Ginger Laky, Sunleaf is Andrea Wurzmann, Peaseblossom is Carol Heisel, Moth is Gay Monteagle, Cobweb is Joy Monteagle, Mustardseed is Sheila Moore, and the Changeling Boy is Brian Silvear.

The bumbling, laugh-provoking clowns furnish scads of merriment. Bottom, the weaver, is played by Ronald Leiber, of the Cornish Theater. He appeared recently in Lithuania. Bottom is changed into an ass by Puck, and one of the most delightful scenes is that in which the exquisite Titania makes love to him. In the play-within-a-play Bottom becomes Pyramus and dies very dead by his own hand—but sits up to explain matters to the duke.

Flue, the bellows-mender, is Jerry Stuefloten. He played in Mr. Bunt and in several of the Youth Follies. Flue becomes Thisby in the final act, and he also dies by suicide, in the richest farce of the evening.

Quince, the carpenter, who is stage manager of the yokels, is taken by Jared Mays, the son of Paul Mays, well-known artist and long-time Carmel resident, who painted sets for the Forest Theater as far back as 1920. Starveling, the tailer, is Jack James, always prominent in Forest Theater work; and Snout the tinker is Cecil Smith, who has played in nearly every theater on the Peninsula for nearly twenty years.

The mortals — the serious ones, that is, such as dukes, queens, lords, lovers, etcetera, are as follows:

Theseus, duke of Athens, is played by Bud Houghton, deeply versed in Shakespearen acting. He was with the Globe Theater at the World's Fair and has played the title role in Richard the Second. He has appeared in the First Theater and the Forest Theater, and recently in the Golden Bough Circle.

Hippolyta is Janet Barson, of England, a Shakespeare scholar and a ringer for queen of the Amazons. Philostrate is Gracecarol Bostwick, the charming Celia of As You Like It, the Tsumu of Helena's Husband, and Sarah Tansey of The Playboy of the Western World, all on the big stage of the Forest Theater. Indoors she has played Wife in Escape, Serena in High Mesa, and Mary McLeod in Detective Story.

Egeus is taken by Ron Bostwick, author of two plays recently presented in the Theater-in-the-Ground.

The four lovers who get so terribly mixed up in The Dream are Nancy Lofton, Karen Silvear, Anthony White, and Edwin Craig. Nancy Lofton played Viola in last year's Twelfth Night. In the Players Circle she has appeared in Time Out for Ginger and The Living Room. It is interesting to note that as a small girl she played Moth in the 1948 production of A Midsummer-Night's Dream. Now she is Helena, tall and very vital. It is also interesting that her mother, who is also Nancy Lofton, played Hermia in that earlier production. Hermia this year is taken by Karen Silvear, who played Starbird in 1948. Last year Karen was the vivacious Maria of Twelfth Night. She has also played in The Little Minister and The Happy Journey.

It is amusing also that the two male lovers, Lysander and Demetrius, are played by the two Andrew Aguecheeks of last year's Twelfth Night. Anthony White (Lysander) rehearsed Sir Andrew for several weeks, but just before the opening date became very ill. Edwin Craig (Demetrius) took over the part on short notice and gave a smooth performance in the role. Craig is only twenty. As a boy he played Owen Webster in Saroyan's The Beautiful People. He has also appeared in Stage Door, Brother Rat, and The Petrified Forest.

White is only eighteen, and this will be his first Shakespearean role. His mother, invaluable in the decoration of the sets, played Nerissa in The Merchant of Venice, which Heron staged in the Forest Theater in 1933.

The small elves are Susan Campbell, Margaret Decker, Kayte Maxey, Dale Sampson, Diana Sampson, Kelly Steele, and Tigel Steele. Mary Martin and Patricia Taplin are courtiers.

Planners Consider City Cultural Center On Dolores Street

Mrs. Amy C. Bingham, owner of the Dolores Street building formerly occupied by the Pine Cone, has asked the Planning Commission for permission to remodel the premises for "a center for the cultural and educational occupation and enjoyment of Carmel residents." The commission yesterday afternoon in study session considered the request and their decision will be given at their regular meeting on August 28.

Parking seemed to be the commission's stumbling block. Mrs. Arthur T. Shand, realtor representing Mrs. Bingham before the commission, stated, "You'll just have to take your chance."

Carmel people do not mind walking a block or so to eat in a good restaurant was the opinion of Mrs. Shand and they would not, she thought, mind a similar walk to attend painting classes instructed by artist Royden Martin, and dancing classes taught by Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Byington Ford. Assemblies and meetings might also be held, she said, in the remodeled building, originally the Denny-Watrous Gallery where concerts, art shows and lectures were given 20 years ago and where the Bach Festival had early rehearsals.

The planning commission also studied plans of Colonel and Mrs. W. W. Yale to add on to their house on Carmelo Street between Tenth and Eleventh Avenues. The Yales are asking for a variance permitting an addition to a dwelling which already exceeds the maximum coverage allowed per lot in Carmel.

Green Bound Over To Superior Court On Marijuana Charge

Thomas William Green, 26, and Linda Isabel Kalish, 20, were arrested on August 15 by Carmel police and charged with possession of marijuana.

Police, tipped off by the couple's landlady, found a brown paper bag containing several smaller bags of marijuana leaves and seeds on the premises.

Green waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to Superior court for trial. Also awaiting trial in Superior court are Mr. and Mrs. David Van Buskirk of Carmel arrested for the possession of marijuana on July 28.

According to Carmel police chief Clyde Klaumann, Miss Kalish told him she had lived with Green for two years. She was released to the custody of her father who flew here from New York to take her home after Green stated she did not know about the marijuana found at the Carmel lodging.

Family Treasures In Barnard's Display Of Antique Books

Barnard's Stationery store on San Carlos near Fifth Avenue has arranged a window display of Early American school books going back to the 1800's. On display is the copy book used by Mr. Barnard's great, great, great grandmother, Matilda Gardner, in 1802. The yellowed, fragile book, of ledger size, is of hand-made paper, with hand-tanned brown leather covers. Pages are inscribed in a neat script by Matilda and her schoolmaster showing the multiplication table, apothecary's weights and measures, and problems worked out in pounds and pence. The Gardners came from Massachusetts with the first group of white settlers to colonize Nantucket Island, off Cape Cod.

Other century-and-a-half old books and manuscripts, all Barnard family treasures, include children's books, primers, readers, a life of Washington (1804) and a physiology book puritanically illustrated with great portions of the human anatomy eliminated for propriety's sake. The latter book carries one illustration of a female form (puritan style) with an opposite illustration showing the deformity caused by whalebone corsets.

In the Barnard store window are included books, circa 1800, also belonging to Mrs. Barnard's family, the Ryders, who originally came over on the Mayflower, and one of whom was a 49er during the California gold rush.

The display continues for two weeks.

THE HILL — Street of Shame, a Japanese film with English titles, opens today. Its star is Machiko Kyo, Japanese actress who last year won acclaim in Teahouse of the August Moon with Marlon Brando and Glenn Ford. Previously, in Gate of Hell, the prize-winning Japanese film, Miss Kyo gained international recognition. In Street of Shame she plays a realistic role, that of a woman of the streets, a far cry from her comedy role in Teahouse, and her tragic heroine in the Gate of Hell.

CARMEL THEATER — An Affair to Remember, Leo McCarey's story, starring Cary Grant and Deborah Kerr, is being held over for a second week. This is a modern adaptation of Co-writer and Director Leo McCarey's film of some years back, titled then, Love Affair, in which Charles Boyer and Irene Dunne played the roles portrayed now by Mr. Grant and Miss Kerr. A love story in the grand manner, it follows the meeting on a Trans-Atlantic liner of a pair of sophisticates, who love, and decide to disencumber themselves of former attachments during a trial six-months period.

On Wednesday, August 28, the Carmel brings in The Pride and the Passion, made in Spain, produced and directed by Stanley Kramer, which stars Cary Grant, Frank Sinatra, and the Italian beauty, Sophia Loren, in her first American picture. Adapted from C. S. Forester's novel, The Gun, the film depicts the Spanish resistance to Napoleon's armies in a story photographed against authentic backgrounds — of Granada, the forecourt of El Escorial, the aqueduct and Alcazar of Segovia, the plains of La Mancha, the Ebro River, and other historic areas in Spain.

GOLDEN BOUGH CINEMA — Cecil B. DeMille's monumental Ten Commandments continues its roadshow engagement, with a matinee each afternoon at 1:30 and a single evening performance at 7:45. Charlton Heston as Moses, Yul Brynner as Pharoah, Anne Baxter, Yvonne De Carlo, John Derek, Judith Anderson, Edward G. Robinson and Sir Cedric Hardwicke head DeMille's cast of 14,000. The Bible brought to life for modern audiences with the sure touch of Hollywood's master showman. Setting: 3,200 odd years ago with props, costumes, customs, settings authentically researched. A film for the entire family.

Katherine French

Mrs. Katherine Clark French died on August 15 in a local hospital after a long illness. She retired from the faculty at Woods School a month ago because of poor health.

Mrs. French began teaching in Carmel in 1943 at Sunset School moving to Woods School when it was opened in 1949. She was born in Missouri but spent her childhood in San Jose. She was a graduate of the Los Angeles State Normal School, now the University of California at Los Angeles, and taught in Winnetka, Illinois, before coming to Carmel. Her home was at Vaquero Road and Adobe Lane in the Monterey Peninsula Country Club area.

Survivors are her mother, Mrs. Maud Clark of Los Angeles, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held on Monday morning in Mission Mortuary Chapel followed by inurnment in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium in Pacific Grove.

SLIDES AT GALLERY

European scenes will be shown in slide form at the Carmel Art Association Gallery on Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock. Howard Stackpole of Carmel took the pictures a year ago while spending seven months in Italy, Germany, Austria, Holland, Switzerland and France. Included in the group of slides to be shown to the public, free of charge, by Stackpole, are interiors of palaces and the ruins of Pompeii.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

Libraries are all alike in one way. They find the strangest things in books. In the California Librarian we found an excerpt from the Newsletter of the San Bernardino County Library which states, "We've found bobby pins and bacon, nail files and family photos, love letters and lipstick, but as far as we know a twenty-five dollar savings bond is the most valuable memento found recently in a book returned by a borrower. It always pay to look in a book."

We are going to have a party! If you were a member of the Golden Key Reading Club you're invited! If any of your children were members, they're invited! If you do not fall into this membership catagory, you will just have to stay at home. Sorry. The party will be held at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon on August 28, at the Girl Scout House, corner of Lincoln and Sixth Street. To save you a trip to a calendar, that will be Wednesday of next week. Entertainment will be provided, and refreshments, and it will be fun. This year we are not giving prizes for anything. Prizes always seem to bring tears, and we are softhearted. We can't stand to see anyone hurt because of failing to win. So no prizes, but a good time will be had by all, and if your children are Golden Key-ers, be sure to send them to the party.

This has been the fastest summer on record. It seems like yesterday that we were beating the drums to start this reading club, and now already we are telling you of the last party meeting. We are all grateful that we are so busy the days fly by, taking the seasons with them.

There are several interesting new books this week. One is the life story of the cosmetics manufacturer, Harriet Hubbard Ayer. It was written by her youngest daughter, Margaret Ayer, who called it The Three Lives of Harriet Ayer. This is a fantastic story of a most unusual woman.

For a village of dog enthusiasts, we have a book entitled Dogs, the text by Dan Senseney, with pictures by Walter Chandoha. These pictures are delightful. You will probably find your dog there just as we did.

The Hidden Persuaders is by Vance Packard, and is a discussion of what makes us buy the things we buy. This is a you-can't-put-it-down sort of book. It reaches back of the buying habits of a nation and shows us the hidden desires and frustrations which are cleverly utilized by advertisers.

In time for fall renovating comes the Goodheart - Willcox Painting and Decorating Encyclopedia. In one volume are directions for painting, decorating, and wood finishing. There are six new novels, two of which are mysteries. We hope you like them.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The wisdom of basing thought on constructive, perfect, spiritual models will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Mind" is the Golden Text from Romans (11:33): "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God, how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy includes the following (248: 26-29): "We must form perfect models in thought and look at them continually, or we shall never carve them out in grand and noble lives."

Scriptural readings include the following (Phillippians 3:15): "Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you."

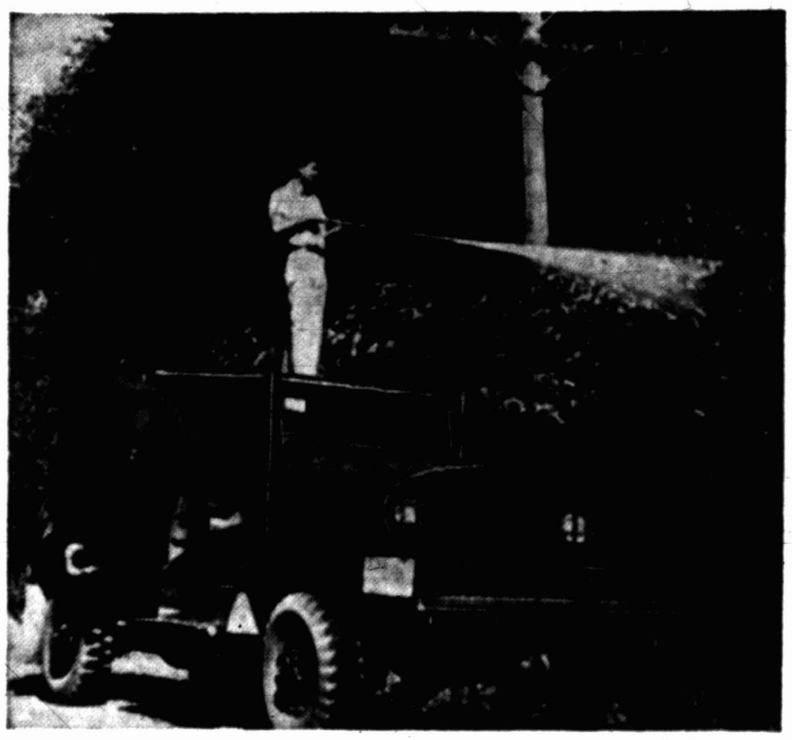
WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel



When you're out for a drive in the country, you may notice a little "telephone gardening" underway. Especially where there are tall trees and shrubs. These growths could interfere with telephone lines if we didn't cut them down to size once in a while. When the brush gets extra thick, new chemical sprays (above) can be used. They do a mighty good job, too. And some day, I wouldn't be surprised to see a lot of spraying done from helicopters. It's already been tried out. No matter what it takes, the main thing is to keep those voice paths open for your calls.

That's a piece of telephone equipment in the hand of the man at left. It's called a thermistor. And the "heart" of it is just a tiny speck inside that tube. It's so small you could barely see it if you placed it on your fingertip. It does a big job, though. For with the thermistor, your voice can't fade or blare on the phone. Just goes to show that good things do come in small packages.

Our Peninsula is growing. There were 330 employed by The Pacific Telephone Co. at the close of 1956, with a payroll of $1,515,000. There were 32,400 telephones; an increase of 5,400 since 1954, a sure index of the growth of this area.

An average of 143,000 calls daily during 1956, compared to 116,000 each day in 1954.

Our 1956-57 City and County taxes were $148,000, a 36% increase over 1954-55 taxes.

The construction investment, which consists of buildings and equipment for 1956, was $7,918,000 and 1957 will surely be the largest year. The estimated construction expenditures for The Pacific Telephone Company for California in 1957 will be $320,900,000.

KEEP FIRE AWAY

Man! Keep fire away!
I speak for the forest
Standing watch over the fertile plain,
Over the valley and the little homes
Nestled at their feet.
I plead for the green army
Climbing the canyon walls,
Marching over the mountain
With verdant defense . . .
Valiant arms holding the snow,
Sinewy fingers halting the stream.

Man! Keep fire away!
I speak for the forest
Wearing the garment of years
As a shield for all creatures . . .
Spreading an emerald cloak to the storm,
Lifting cool veils to the sun.

Man! Keep fire away!
I speak for the forest
The gift of the ages.
Guardian of perishable wealth
Beware of the spark
The thief of your treasure.
Man! Keep fire away!

—CONSTANCE WALKER.

SEA TOWN

Wherever ocean rides below
The other highways of the town
And cliffs walk up and gates are swung

Too memoried, and journeys bend
Like suns at westing to the sea
And roofs have custody of tides

And tours of gulls and change of skies,—

There, cast on beaches more intent
Than sand to hold all wandering,
Stones rise to roads and roads to fathom skies.

—PHYLLIS FINK.

WINDLESS NIGHT

The moon is a Salome,
Weaving among grey veils of cloud.

The army of crickets shatters the hush
With rapid fire miniature artillery.

A calf, weaned from its mother
Bawls out its threnody of loneliness.

A rancher's wife smiles poignantly
At memories of frosty-mooned autumns long fled.

—LUCIA TRENT.

Graves Due Home Tomorrow

The Pine Cone's conservation columnist C. Edward Graves is due to arrive home in Carmel tomorrow after a mountain climbing vacation in Lassen National Park.

"The weather has been absolutely perfect," Mr. Graves reports by postcard," the second week here I was joined by my son Ted." Whether or not Mr. Graves and Ted succeeded in scaling Mount Brokeoff will be known when Mr. Graves returns. His postcard just stated the climb was planned.

Mrs. Stilwell Has Guests

In Carmel for two weeks visiting Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell are her daughter Alison (Mrs. William R. Cameron) and the three Cameron children, Cathy, Laurie and Bruce. This is a between stations visit here for the Camerons. They have been living on Guam where Colonel Cameron was stationed until recently. After leaving here, they go to Honolulu to join him at his new station.

Edith Rigdon Wed In Mission

Edith Rigdon, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Jonathan M. Rigdon, was married to Christopher Ursino of Monterey at 9:00 o'clock on Saturday morning in Carmel Mission by the Very Reverend Monsignor Michael D. O'Connell. Tall vases of white gladioli and stock decorated the altar with baskets of the same flowers placed at each side of the chancel steps. Soft organ music was played as the guests assembled.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organdy with French embroidery of lilies of the valley. The full floor length skirt of the dress fell in graceful folds from a fitted bodice made with scoop neckline and short sleeves. She wore mittens of the same embroidered organdy as the gown and her fingertip net veil was held in place by a Juliet cap embroidered with seed pearls, matching her pearl earrings. Her bouquet was a sunburst arrangement of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Ruth Harrington was maid of honor and the bride's other attendant was Mrs. Michael Baroni, sister of the groom. They wore organdy dresses similar in style to that of the bride but with ballerina length skirts. The maid of honor's dress was dark green in color and the bridesmaid's pale green. Their shoes matched their dresses and they wore wreaths of pale pink roses in their hair and carried nosegay bouquets of baby pink roses and carnations.

Fritz Willard was best man for the groom and ushers were the groom's brother - in - law, Michael Baroni, and the groom's brother, Salvatore Ursino.

Mrs. Rigdon attended her daughter's wedding in a light grey wool dress with a lavender velvet shawl collar, a violet velvet hat, and a corsage of lavender orchids.

Mrs. Ursino, the groom's mother, wore a grey wool suit with a pink feathered hat and an orchid corsage.

Immediately after the marriage a wedding breakfast for the families of the bridal couple and the wedding party was given in the Crystal Room at Pine Inn followed by a reception in the same room when the three-tiered wedding cake, surrounded by pink carnations, was served to the guests.

After a honeymoon at an undisclosed destination the bride and groom will return to Carmel to live on Lincoln Street between Twelfth and Thirteenth Avenues. For her traveling costume the bride chose a black wool suit with matching hat and accessories.

Mrs. Jack Colin, aunt of the bride, came from New York to attend the marriage. Unable to be present were the bride's brother Jonathan Rigdon of Seattle and her sister, Mrs. Joseph de Rivera of Pensacola, Florida. Mrs. Robert J. Bell of Carmel, is also a sister of the bride who attended Monterey Peninsula College before graduating in June from the University of California at Berkeley.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Agatino Ursino of Monterey. Besides his sister and brother in the wedding party he has two other brothers, Frank and Theodore Ursino. He is at present employed by a local weather stripping firm.

Elstons Drive To Canada

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Elston with daughters Pat, Jean and Helen are away on a motor trip to Canada. They plan to visit Victoria and other places on Vancouver Island before returning to Carmel on August 31. During the last week of the Elston's vacation Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Baylis and sons Owen and Lloyd will come from Palo Alto to occupy the Elston's home on Carmel Point.

Music At Carmadon

Several recordings made by Mrs. Grace Howden during her professional career as singer were played at her home on August 11. Also heard in an informal musical program were David Schoenbrod, baritone; Marjory Pegram, mezzo soprano; Jerry Hobson, baritone; and Marjorie Freston, pianist and accompanist:

Following the music a brief talk was given by Clarence C. Robinson, former director of the school of music at Ohio University.

The afternoon's entertainment was the second reception which Mrs. Howden has given since she returned from a world tour.

Mrs. Roberts In East

Mrs. R. Ellis Roberts is spending a month in Baltimore, Maryland, as the guest of her uncle Mr. Valentine Sherman Doebler. She flew East because of the death of her mother-Mrs. Herbert Ide Keen who made many friends here when she came to Carmel to visit Mrs. Roberts.

Eric, Glenn Win Cartoon Awards

Cartoonists Hank Ketcham (Dennis the Menace) and Gus Arriola (Gordo) awarded Eric Norberg of Carmel second place in the Monterey County Fair 12-15 years old cartoon contest. Eric submitted a Gordo drawing.

First place in the eight to 11 years old group was taken by Glenn Kovacevich with his Dennis cartoon.

Both boys have their work on exhibit in the home economics building at the Fair.

Breakfast For PTA Board

Carmel High School PTA co-presidents Colonel Robert E. Osborne and Mrs. Osborne entertained new board members at an informal breakfast at their home on Monday morning.

Board members were surprised by a huge watermelon centerpiece heaped with melon balls, served in individual cantaloupe shells, augmented by bite-sized breakfast rolls.

Each member of the new board discussed her particular responsibilities. Emphasis was placed on stimulating programs for the coming year and money raising activities for the foreign exchange student program.

New board members are: Mrs. Audrey Tetley, secretary; Mrs. Walter Pilot, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Giarratana, program chairman; Mrs. Reed Pollock, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Barbara Parker, membership chairman; Mrs. Richard White, room representative; Mrs. Louise Reifle, greeting chairman; Mrs. Gordon Reed, foreign students; Mrs. Alphonse Elsen, publicity chairman.

First Girl For Giglios

Mr. and Mrs. Delfo Giglio added a girl to their family of two boys on August 11 at the Peninsula Community Hospital. She has been named Nanda after her father's sister and weighed seven pounds, seven ounces at birth. Nanda's two older brothers are Victor, four and a half years old, Gregory, "not quite two."

June Harner Home From Ecuador

Mrs. Michael Harner (June Kocher) with her two children, Terry and Jimmie, flew home to Carmel from Ecuador last week arriving here on Friday.

This week she is in Berkeley looking for a house to move into when her husband Michael arrives from South America in three weeks time.

For the past year the Harners have been living near Quito in primitive Ecuadorian back country while Mike did research on the head-shrinking Jivaro Indians on the Amazon River. He received a Dougherty grant for the anthropological research.

When he returns to Berkeley he has a teaching position at the University of California and will continue his research work in anthropology.

While June is house hunting in Berkeley, Terry and Jimmie are staying with their grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Kocher of Carmel Highlands.

No Garden Column This Week

Pine Cone garden columnist Kippy Stuart can't type at present, so there will be no The Time Has Come column this week. Seems Kippy got mixed up with rocks in flats on an overhead shelf and now "has her head in a sling" she says. Kippy must have got a hand in the mixup somehow seems to us. If not we're going to do some research in Hatton Fields for a piece entitled Kippy Astounds World.

Elsie Bard

Mrs. Elsie Sanderson Bard died on Friday in a local hospital of a heart condition. A former Seattle resident, Mrs. Bard had lived for the past three years with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacDonald on their Carmel Valley ranch. Mrs. MacDonald (Betty) is the author of The Egg And I and other books.

Mrs. Bard was born on January 1, 1878, in Elizabeth, New Jersey. She lived in Butte, Montana, before moving to Seattle where she stayed for 20 years. Mrs. Bard was author of one of the Pacific Northwest's first radio serials, Schuyler Square, for two years during the 1930's.

Besides Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Bard is survived by three other daughters, Mrs. Mary Bard Jensen, also a writer; Mrs. Alison Beck and Mrs. Darsie Goldsmith, all of Seattle; a son, Cleve Bard of Vashon Island, Washington; 13 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium. Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to contribute to the memory of Mrs. Bard are asked to do so in the form of donations to Carmel's Harrison Memorial Library.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

SILVER CUP WINNER

Carmel artist William C. Watts is winner of the silver cup presented annually by the city and council of San Francisco for the picture judged best in show in the county Fair art exhibit. Mr. Watts' entry is entitled Rocks, Low Tide, Point Lobos.

Fred Klepich won first place in the professional oil and water color section with his picture South Point. Second and third awards in this class went to Carmel artists Jesse Corsaut and Nell Walker Warner, respectively.

Water color awards were won by Eugene Baker and Laura Maxwell of Carmel Valley. Mr. Baker took second place and Mrs. Maxwell third.

Honorable mention went to the work of Jack N. Swanson and Thomas A. McGlynn in the oil section and to Herbert Lewis and Charlotte Betts in the water color class.

The Donald Hodges On Probation For Child Neglect

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hodges of Carmel appeared before Judge Ray Baugh in Municipal Court on a child neglect charge on August 16 and were put on probation for one year with instructions to report to the court each month during this period.

Carmel police reported the Hodges to the district attorney's office on August 7 when at 7:41 o'clock in the evening police officers found three-year-old Justin Hodges wandering on the street. Returning him to his home the police found his parents were away. Police left a note at the Hodges' house telling them that Justin was at the police station.

Three hours later the parents came to the station after attending a theater in Monterey. Mrs. Hodges told the police she and her husband had locked the toddler in his room before they left and informed neighbors they would be away.

Next day Carmel police served the child neglect warrant on the Hodges on the complaint of the district attorney's office.

Petitions Circulate For Carmel Council To Pass "Right To Work" Ord.

work of their citizens."

Captain Gleason suggests the Tehama County ordinance as a model for the proposed Carmel right to work ordinance. San Benito County and the City of Palm Springs have also passed "right to work" ordinances, which have been ruled against in superior court. Palm Springs has appealed to the state supreme court.

The issue in the Blue Bird restaurant dispute with the union appears to be whether or not the new owners assumed responsibility for the contract the former owners had with the union. The new owners, Sarah Anderson, Margaret Gibbons, Marjorie Hamer and Rhue Linn, said they did not, and that their attorney had advised them that they were not required to do so. Lou Gold, representative of the union, says that the contract is binding on the new owners regardless of whether or not they resumed responsibility. "All our contracts on the Monterey Peninsula have that same carry-over clause" Mr. Gold told the Pine Cone. "If this isn't binding, all our contracts are wrong."

Several weeks ago the restaurant proprietors and the union asked Peter Ferrante, of the legal firm of Hudson, Martin, Ferrante and Street to arbitrate the question, "but they haven't told me yet on which issue they want me to arbitrate, the contract, or others," Mr. Ferrante told the Pine Cone. One reason for the delay is the absence from his office until after Labor Day of the restaurant proprietors' San Francisco attorney.

Council Could Reduce Tax 4 Cents, Instead Plans To Raise It 2 Cents

Add it to the contingency fund of $5,000? Or split it between two miscellaneous funds in capital outlay and operational expense. The latter seemed to be the most popular when they departed for home but this morning, Clerk Rose had everything firmly in hand.

"It will be added to the fund for the final purchase of the Murphy property (corporation yard)," he told the Pine Cone.

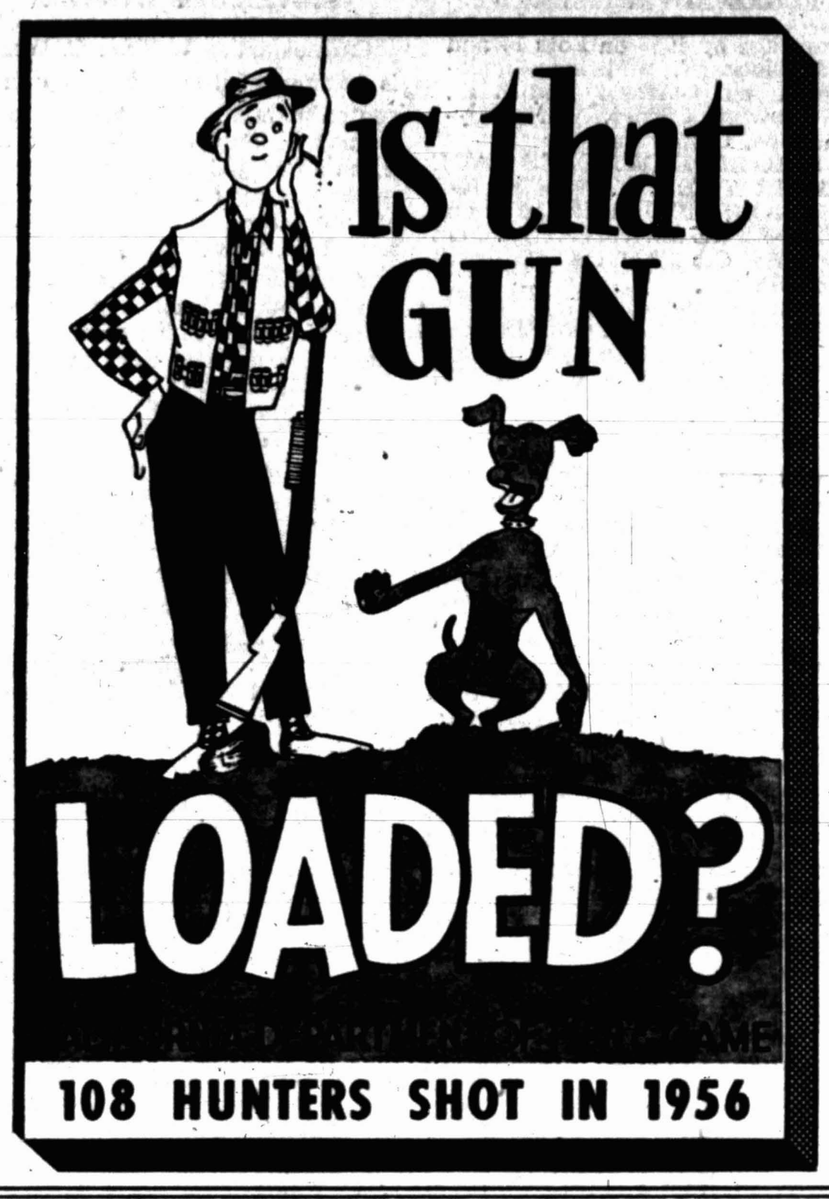
"But you already budgeted $9,000 for that."

"The final payment is $36,000." said Mr. Rose.

"How did you expect to make the $36,000 payment with $9,000 then?"

This was a rhetorical question. The sales tax anticipated revenue is based on state estimate which was so far below actual facts last year that the council was able to spend with a free hand, return $40,000 to the reserve fund ($15,000 of which was sales tax) and fatten the reserve $15,000 more at the end of this fiscal year. The sales tax revenue has constantly increased and will continue to do so, short of a national catastrophe. The city will pick up $30,000 surplus sales tax by the most conservative estimate. And that was why Mr. Rose budgeted only $9,000 for the final Murphy purchase. Now he tells the council that the taxes should be raised this year anyway, and the $7,000 plus should go on the Murphy property purchase.

The chance of the money's not being available through sales tax surplus for the Murphy property final payment is remote indeed, but if it wasn't, $27,000 could hardly spell disaster to a city with a reserve of $115,000 squirreled away for such emergencies.—W.C.



Bus And Car Collide On Ocean Avenue

A Bay Rapid Transit bus and a car collided at Mission Street and Ocean Avenue at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening. Injured was Frederick L. Leining of Pebble Beach who was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital in the Red Cross ambulance, operated by the fire department, when he complained of chest and head pains. Mr. Leining was later moved to the Hospital Annex for observation.

Donald Griffin, driver of the bus, going south on Mission Street at Ocean Avenue preparatory to turning up the hill to Monterey, said the Leining car going west on Ocean Avenue went through the stop sign at Mission Street.

Lady Flies Through Air From Parking Lot With Greatest Of Ease

Mrs. Vera Kaminez of Santa Monica, driving a rented car, with an automatic transmission, started to back out of a parking space on the C. W. Lunt parking lot opposite the post office on Tuesday afternoon. She shifted to low gear instead of reverse and proceeded west across the Lunt lot and over the bank on to the city post office parking lot below. Fortunately no cars were parked on the city lot. Minor damage was done to the rented car. Mrs. Kaminez was not injured. Spectators were amazed.
